FLICKERING LIGHTS.

A poor little boy lies sick unto death in his cheerless palace in Madrid. The court physicians watch his feeble gasps and count the faint pulsations of his tainted royal blood, issuing a reassuring bulletin when "his majesty" deigns to take some broth,

Such is the news received by cable, and in itself this news contains nothing that is either astonishing of exciting. That the campered posthumous child of a notoriously healthy father should readily succumb to infantile allments is but natural, but nevertheless it can be safely asserted that the suf-ferings of the poor little fellow are watched with breathless maxiety by his seniors in the galaxy of royal and imperial stars shining over Europe.

In the light of recent events a vacancy on the throne of Spain could not occur at a time more inopportune to the interests of royalty autong the Latin nations. shock of revolution, though slight and burely perceptible in Brazil, has reached across the ocean and created a treeling, of restlessuess among the governed masses; uneasiness in the breasts of the governing

A glance around the circle of crowned heads of Europe must, convince the most conservative that there never has been a period less promising to the prospects of a protracted continuance of monarchical institutions there than the present. In England we see an aged, well-beloved queen to be succecded by either a more or less reformed rake or a callow youth of most unsavory reputation, while the people already enjoy privileges which would make transition from nonarchy to republicanism quite easy and scarcely perceptible to the masses. In Gera crippled young emperor with scroiulous children is drowning care in lavishspleudor and nervous play at war with his vertrained and overworked soldiers. Russia an emperor and empress living inbeir-apparent most feeble in body and intelal a beyy of unruly brothers, cither invalids or debauchees. In Austria an ared emperor with a wife diseased in mind and body, both brooding morosciy over the scandalous off-taking of their only son, and vithout a competent individual in the line of succession. In Italy a king, the offspring of a most immoral father, aging fast, and with a son who plainly shows the inherited effects of several generations of dissipation.

Among the stars of second magnitude we note the king of Portugal, just succeeded to his brother, who died young of inherited disease. The kings of Denmark and Belgium are in their second childhood, with succession involved in difficulties. royal Swedish family has developed mental ufirmity and bodily disease, necessitating dencerous surgical operations, while in Bavaria two lunatics have been supersedeby a childless martinet. In Turkey the miscalled "ruler of the faithful" is trembling in his slippers because his dethroned brother is said to be recovering whatever little menfal equilibrium he once possessed.

Surely this is an ominous and startling array. The whilom brilliant galaxy of stars ceras to be fading-the lights are flickering in the gently rising breeze of revolutionary, a fair type of the Washington clergy, which sentiment. Let the breeze but freshen to a gale and the lights would be extinguished one by one.

UNGOVERNABLE PENURY.

A "confirmed crank" is an individual who. when self-supporting, is a thorn in the flesh of his friends. When he is a pensioner upon the bounty of benevolence he is a thora in the flesh of society; or more specifically speaking, of charitable societies, wearing threadbare the patience of the most kindly disposed among their officers. But it is only when the crank is a woman, full of ails, real and imaginary, and has from one to half a dozen children, whom she can not take care of and from whom she refuses to be separated, that the silliction becomes really unbearable, and the various relief societies are forced to cry out over the signature of their secretaries at the infliction.

brought several charitable societies to the with a brief chapter of experiences From the testimony elicited it is plain that the county poor house is maintained by a sympathetic and indulgent public for the purpose of providing shelter for such poverty-stricken incapables as this Mrs. McKenna, while the Boys! and Girls' Ald Society is the proper custodian of the little 10-year-old to that the mother's folly condemns to a life of beggary with herself, pending the finding of a smitchle home for the child, Kindness exhausts its ingenuity and charity its resources in vain in the attempt to pro vide for a person who resists every intelligent endeavor looking to her comfort the maintenance and education of herichild. There are too many worthy objects of charity whose necessities press upon the resources of benevolence for those who are charged with the duty of dispensing its bounties to waste time in the fruitless en-deavor to satisfy the demands of the improvident crank, who takes the dole of charity as his right and roundly abuses who bestow it, if in his estimation the allowance is not as liberal as it should be Jerry McAutey, a leader in a little mission in the Fourth ward of New York years ago. said, as is recorded by a writer in the De cember Arena: "I used to think I must take 'em as they came and spend just as much trength on one as another, but I've made up my mind, and worked on it a good white; there's a lot the Lord don't want, and the devil ain't ready for yet; they ain't worth saving, and you've just got to let them go, and work for them that is. That sounds pretty had, but it's God's truth." This is another form of the familiar statement that justice, not charity, is what is needed in dealing with hopeless and ungovernable penury.

THE ELECTRICAL PROBLEM.

Under this headline the Boston Merald warns cities that, are on the eve of introducing electric light wires and elecric motors that it is important provide proper suffiguards in the start, and of wait, as New York city did, for trighful deaths to compet the electric companies to protect the public. The Herald thinks that general system of scientific supervision should be established of all electric wires that are run through streets and over house The duty of this necessary official electrician is set forth as follows: His first duty would be to clear the field by the mis like day would be rounding through our streets or over our bouselops to which ownership and responsibility do not of finitely ettach. This done, the next step would be to lay down hard and fast ules regulating the running and use of electric wires of all kinds, bringing about a separation of the low from the high tension wires, grouping each class by itself, and, wherever crossing was necessity, so arraiging as to guard against the possibility of accidents.

In this way the dangers incident to the use of electricity would be reduced to a minimum, and prevent the "wild panie or the nicless because senseless destruction of property that took place in New York." There is no need of any such indiscriminate erusade against electric light and power companies as followed in New York the deaths of two men, who probably perished because of their own reckless refusal to take. when we add to this a general system of competent professional electrical supervision pi all wires we ought to be resonably secure against fatal accidents. If the wires are properly placed in the start and are kept subject to a wise and determined official control there need be no fear of repeating the experience of New York city, its deaths by electricity and its consequent panic so destructive to property and public comfort.

, WRONG IN HIS FACTS.

Salan, Jan 9.- [Paris Eniron.]-In a recent issue you quote the late Henry Grady as saying that the South would influence Its negro votenot with the menace of the mask and sheigen, but as the boss averywhere binders the vote of the laborer, the power of the righ that of the peor, as the strong and the stendinst everywhere control the sangage of the week and the shiftless. For this you say, the South should have its representation in the congress and the electoral college reduced.

Prier to the Oregon state election last June would be made by some of the bosses to cocked the democrate among the employes to abstain from vetting or to vote the republican ticket, through fear of discharge, I asked one of the large stockholders of the company if he would not see that the men were left free to vote as they chose. He, replied that "the votes of the employes of the Iron and Steel Company would be cantrolled for protection." The vote of the Oswerd previous that the election stood is for Garrin, thriff reduction; 66 for Hermann, protection. The eighteen votes are presumed to have been thrown mainly by residents eit the procure not in the employ of the iron company. It is not remembered that The Orngonian counseled for duction of Oregon's congressional and electoral representation upon the declaration of the result. regald be made by some of the bosses to come

This is the first-time, so far as we know, that it has ever been charged that the voters at Oswego were controlled in 1888, or at any other time. The chances are a thousand to one that the statement is unfounded. It is not possible to "control" votes in Oregon in this way. There is a free ballot, it is protected by secrecy, and the voter may east it absolutely as he chooses. An apocryphal story of this kind told about a precinct in Oregon is a pitiful attempt to off et the admitted fact that in the Southern states, the constitutional rights of six millions of people are dsurped by those who, through such usurpation, enormously increase their own power in congress and in the electoral colege. Here is a wrong of national proportions-a wrong through which congress has often been controlled, and even the presi-dency of the United States, and it is only through perpetration of it that "B." and his party have the slightest expectation or hope of future political success. Hence they up-hold it and defend it; bence they tell pitiful stories like that about the Oswego precinct: In like manner they were wont to defend Southern slavery by telling stories of the "enslavement" of Northern working people. The South boldly says that the negro shall not vote. It is just, then that the negro there shall not be counted in the basis of representation. This means that the South should be deprived of at least forty members of congress, and of as many votes in the electoral college.

The following extraordinary letter was ing to be a minister of the gospel, residing in Western Weshington. If the writer were we are sure he is not, the contempt in which the cloth seems to be held by some members of the legislature would be explained and justified. Nothing but an innocence too fresh for Adam before the fall could excuse such a singular exhibition of vanity, silliness and weakness as is contained in this letter: I had the misfortune to lose, by death, my dear white, at our home in Georgia, two and one-half years ago, and am seeking another fair hand in wedlock. It is a hard matter to find just such a hady as a minister wants, as to age, norther telligious qualifications, virtue, otc., hence I write to you for information, that is, on this coats, who wants to rearry. Some of my friends tell me that wants to marry. Some of my friends tell me that I am too hard to please. They were felling last evening about advertising for husbands and evening about advertising for husbands and wives. As a general thing I would deem that a bitz-ardons undertaking, for I have known some men to miss the mark by far and get a wife who soon tires of him, while others may do well. Eighteen months ago I met a man on the boat on Fuget sound who was telling me how they thus do in your site. To have husbands and wires he described. city, to secure bushauds and wives by advertising, A recent case of this kind in this city has and highly recommended the plan. caused a suspension of official amenities between the C. B. of C. and the police, and brought repeat chestell. tographs, and by a multitude of references, of the city and from the East, where one is raised, or South, secure a good, virtuous, pretty, chaste wife and not have one put off on him who is, he don't know what, back in the states. Please give me your views ou this matter. I have only one child, a married son.

We have no advice for the reverend genman. It would be quite useless to tell a berson of his limited apprehensions that one with the smallest conception of what the marriage relation is would ever dream of entering it through the means some wag-gish acquaintances have advised him to use. Weldo advise the "good, virtuous. pretty and chaste" young women of Washington to keep clear of a reverend widower going about seeking whom he may marry. The woman whose husband is a drunkard, is unfortunate; she whose married life is marred by cruelty and neglect, is to b pitied; the wife of a criminal or social outcast is an object of sympathy; but the most absolutely wretched and pitiable woman in wide world is she who is tied for life to a lool.

A convention in which the people of the state are more generally interested than any that has met since the constitutional conrention assembled in Bulem, something like a third of a century ago has been called by Governor Pennover to meet in this city of the 11th of February. The call is in the form of a circular letter addressed by the state executive to the assessors of the several counties, requesting them to meet at the time and place designated to confer together upon the adoption of a system of equitable assessment of property throughout the slate. The present system of assessment, if that can be called a system which is practically a go-as-you-picase among assessors, is inequitable and unsatisfactory, encourages perjury in taxpayers and results in a talse showing in property values that is anything out creditable to the financial standing of the state or the enterprise of its office Added to this is the necessity forced upon thapayers of paying their taxes; city, state, road and school, each at separate times and at different places, a necessity that involves needless loss of time and results in endless annoyance, and not infrequent lapses into wholly unintentional delinquency on the tax roll; this, in turn, doubles the expense on small amounts and gives the victimized taxpayer just cause for complaint. An equite basis of taxation is a demand of justice that has been too long ignored in this state. The problem is not a difficult one. Concerted action based upon an honest intent to make all property bear its just proportion of taxes is all that is required to meet the demands of justice in the premises.

The election of Calvin S. Brice to the United States senate from Obio is another proof that the tendency of the time is to send rich men the "the American house of lords,". Brice was elected over John Mc-Mahon, a very abla lawyer, who during his service in the lower house of congress, impressed men of all parties with the conviction that he was a man of the first order of talent for legislation. MoMahon declined forty-four second-class.

n re-election to the lower house, or he would be there to day. This railroad wrecker, Brice, bought his seat in the senate just as modiful precautions. Edison has explained "Standard Oil Payne" bought his seat in detail that accidents can be provented by lagainst Pendleton. There has been too. the use of a current of how voltage, and much of this sort of thing in the sense and the character of that body has undergone achange in the last generation altoguther for the worse. When Daniel Webster was the: last time chosen to the United States senate he was so poor that he could not take the office and a sum of money was raised for bim by his political friends. Charles Sum; ner had to entage in public lecturing at a time when his health was not strong in order to get miney to pay his gents. Heary Wilson had adding but his salaryeas senator to support him. Edward Except, who inherited or married wealth, was the only rich man ever sent by Massachusetts to the United States senate and he only served two years. The drift of the day is; however, clearly in the direction of a sample of parto-crats; that is either men of great wealth or the legal tools, advocates and John less for; corporate wealth on the floor of the senate. The oldest abin builder da well as one of the oldest men in the world is Major Thomas Harward, of Bath, Maine. He came of the toughest stock of the stufdy bld Pine tree state and was born in the little town of Bowdoinham, ten miles north of Bath, on the 15th of March 1730. He began his coreer as ship builder early in the presthrough all the years of a vigorous manhood. He still lives in Bath during the summer but passes his winters in Brooklyn where he owns a large amount of property. Upon being asked recently what rules of life had preserved him to so great an age he answered promptly: "I never used tobacco in any form, never used spirits except as medicine, and always attended to my own business as I do now." While the strict observance of these rules would not serve every man as well in the matter of wealth and length of days, it is certain that it would increase the measure of usefulness and self respect of many.

Portneyl's quarrel with England needs explenation. Portugal attenuts to disrute the claim of England to the mountainous, gold-bearing country of Mashenaland in Southeastern Africa, which extends northeast for over 300 miles, crossing the Zambesi and embracing the whole valley of the Shire river to Lake Nyassa. This region was discovered by Livingstone, who explored the river Shire and mapped Lake Nyassa, and his work was halled by the whole world as an original discovery. A company was recently chartered in England to govern and develop this region, and now the greedy, hungry Portuguese have raised their flag over this Mashonaland on the strength of a musty old claim that over two centuries ago a l'oriu-Lake Nyassa. From that day the Portuguse have never spent a shilling to occupy or develop this country, and of course the British are not disposed to arbitrate their claim, but are determined to maintain and enforce it with cannon.

"High rents, close competition and small profits" sent two Tacoma firms to the wall during the first week of the new year. This is a combination not unusual in cities where business is pushed beyond the demand made by legitimate and healthful growth. Tacoma is a lively, energetic place. There is no question about that, but it is not possible to do business there successfully on a basis of expense, to maintain which requires the trade of a place containing double its population. The attempt to make business succeed when the out o exceeds the income is an undertaking ull of vexations, even when, in the hope of an early increase in the volume of rade, the proprietor feels justified, and I financially able to run it at a loss for a few mouths. When this loss means an accumulation of debt the case is hopeless and the sooner the attempt is abandoned the better, since the longer the false position is maintained the heavier will be the inevit-

THE OBEGONIAN has already expressed its approval of the principle of the Australian, ballot system, and the hope that the next legislature of this state would take steps to embody it in a new election law. Mr. E. W. Bingham proposes, to forward this end organizing a systematic agitation in favor of this legislation. He thinks a series of public meetings should be held throughout the state to express the popular will on the subject, and invites communications from persons in Portland willing to join him, in bringing about such a meeting here. The idea is a good one. . .

This contains German silver resistance coils, which are brought to a red bear by the cur-rent, and it has been found possible to perform all the ordinary cooking operations in a range fitted with a series of such coils.

A careful investigation of the situation which exists on Bellingham Bay to day will convince any shrewd man of affairs that the foundation of a great city has been had at Farrhaven and that the work to that end has begun in earnest. Natural resources (coal, iron, lumber and agriculture) are there in inexhaustible quantities; it has an incompanable harbor, great milis are building, rows of brick buildings, including a magnificent hotel, are being erected, miles of brick buildings, including a magnificent hotel, are being erected, miles of streets are being graded and sidewalks laid; new industries are springing up and new lines of business are being opened every day. Shipping is increasing every hour People are flocking there by the thousands and the tributary country is settling with a phenomenal rapidity. Fair-haven has two railroads building in different directions. The town is, moreover, backed up by a powerful land company that is nursing, building and developing it on liberal and broad gauge principles. Any sagacious person, who will calmly look the situation over, can not fail to recognize the fact that the lastory of Taccina is to be repeated at Fairhaven.

LAST FAIRHAYEN ADDITION is less than a mile back of the town.
